

Regional Pollinator Resource Festival - Sat. June 17 2023 1-4pm

University of Maryland - College Park

The City of College Park Bee City USA and UMD Bee Campus USA affiliates invite members of surrounding communities to participate in our first annual Pollinator Resource Festival. See map of events on the next page. We are bringing together Regional Bee City USA affiliates and Sustainable Maryland's Rt. 1 Pollinator Corridor Communities to kickoff National Pollinator Week!

Itinerary

Attendees may view the film first or go directly to the pollinator resource fair.

1pm-2:30pm Film Screening “My Garden of a Thousand Bees” (Free) Sponsored by the Office of Community Engagement and Arts for All.

- Location: Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, Gildenhorn Recital Hall
- 8270 Alumni Drive, College Park, MD 20742
- 1pm-2pm “My Garden of a Thousand Bees” (53min film)
- 2pm-2:30pm: After Film Q&A, Discussion
- Leave Clarice Smith Performing Arts at 2:30pm

1pm-4pm Pollinator Resource Fair - Outdoors (Free)

- Location: Across the street at the Arboretum Outreach Center ( Apiary building)
- 3931 Stadium Dr, College Park, MD 20742
- There are restrooms available at the Apiary Building
- See a Bee Campus Pollinator Garden and Native Bee Wall

Affiliates and attending organizations may start setting up at noon on the grounds of the Arboretum Outreach Center (Apiary Building). As an outdoor event you may want to bring a pop up canopy, at the moment we are not sure about being able to provide tables and chairs, so be prepared to bring your own, we will let you know if this changes. There is a paid parking at Stadium Drive Garage next to the Apiary building however there is free parking further down Alumni Drive in Lots 1 and Z.

The event will be rain or shine, in the event of rain the parking garage in front of the apiary building has a covered walkway facing the Apiary building where tables can be sheltered. This event is open to all but is targeted towards our regional affiliates, to aid in their annual renewal activities report and Rt. 1 Pollinator Corridor Communities. For this reason it is best if they are in attendance with a table however participation through generating and inviting vendors on our joint list of organizations and vendors is a big way you can help.
